Our Holy Father: In his own words

"We can bring the Gospel to others only if it has made a deep impact in our lives."

Pope Francis

From: Fr. Juan Fernando Gamez

Jesús, resucitado, va al encuentro de sus discípulos.

Hermanos y hermanas en el Señor.

Los discípulos de Jesús creen que después de haber vivido la experiencia de la resurrección no volverán a tener contacto con él, pero Jesús es consciente de que su tarea aún no ha terminado. El evangelista nos relata hoy como Jesús intenta quitar el miedo y la pesadumbre a sus seguidores para que sean anunciadores de la Palabra de Dios, por ello, se pone delante de ellos; estos se asustan, se quedan mudos por el estupor y la incredulidad ante lo que están viendo, Jesús les pregunta: ¿Por qué os alarmáis? ¿Por qué surgen dudas en vuestro interior? Soy yo.

Jesús quiere que tengan fe, que tomen conciencia de que no están solos, los invita a que lo toquen, palpen sus heridas y les pide comida. Come con ellos y les recuerda los momentos vividos para que se cumpliesen las escrituras.

Hoy, al igual que entonces, Jesús quiere que miremos sus heridas, heridas que encontramos en los hermanos más desheredados: los enfermos, los niños maltratados, las mujeres violentadas, los ancianos en soledad, los que viven la falta de libertad... Sin embargo seguimos empeñados en buscar un Cristo milagrero, un Cristo bello al que llevar flores, poner velas, al que muchas veces chantajeamos «me concedes y te doy a cambio...»

Con este comportamiento estamos lejos de ser testigos, de ser buena noticia, porque para ser portadores de la Palabra de Dios, tenemos que experimentar su amor en nuestra vida, dejamos llenar de su Espíritu y caminar día a día siendo lámparas y senderos para los hermanos. Como Iglesia éste es el Jesús que debemos experimentar y anunciar.

¡Seamos lámpara y luz cada día!

Fr. Juan Fernando Gámez
